

Feel the texture ...

marmoleum® textura

creating better environments

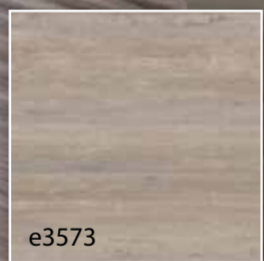

timeless durable modern innovative original signature unique state-of-the-art tactile natural design sustainable esthetic

Flow

e5232

e3573

e5231

Bring the floor to live

Linoleum has been known for years to be the natural and durable floorcovering that matches any room design in any location. Being the lively floor strongly present or the modest basis where other elements can become the hero.

Our Marmoleum Striato collection is known for its organic linear pattern with its warm natural colours. Adding tactility bears a wonderful opportunity to play with the subtle shadows of floodlight, enhancing the comfortable and familiar feel to natural surroundings. This truly brings the floor to live.

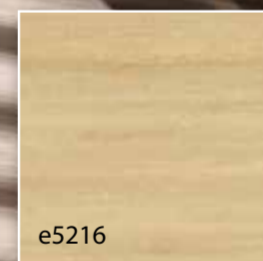

There are two textures available; flow and driftwood. Each texture is available in three colours that match the design perfectly and create a state-of-the-art floorcovering.

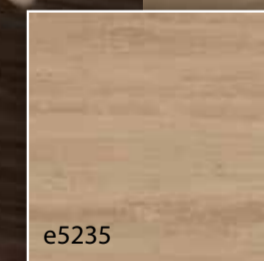

creating better environments

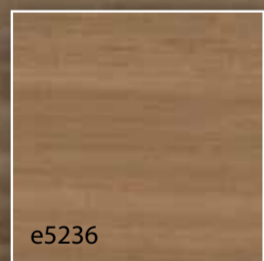

Driftwood

e5216

e5235

e5236

Our Marmoleum, the brand for our Linoleum collection stands for versatility, sustainability, durability and now also for tactility! It combines ecological and economic values that help bring modern and contemporary architecture to life.

All Marmoleum floors are protected by our Topshield², double UV cured, finish. This high performance protection prevents staining, scuffing and scratching for a lasting appearance retention and ensures easy cleaning and maintenance at lower intervals.

Marmoleum
97% natural
72% renewable
43% recyclable

Created from natural, renewable materials, Marmoleum is the most sustainable resilient floor available. Marmoleum contains no phthalates, no plasticisers and no mineral oil. Adding an embossing to the floor does not change a thing to this. Marmoleum has been measured against all of the important sustainable global eco labels like e.g. Nordic Swan and the Blue Angel in Germany.